Curious about starting your own business to teach art lessons to children...
 But have no idea where to begin?
 Let's take away the uncertainty and swap it for a plan.
 Join me for my brand new 3-day Endless Possibilities workshop, and we'll map out your beautiful art studio together!

- You'll discover how to mix + match your unique blend of skills, experience and passions to create a new way of working (and earning!) that fulfills you.
- You'll walk away feeling energized, excited, and creatively re-fueled.
- Best of all, you'll walk away with a plan (and some totally doable steps to get started + take action!)

You might not see a clear path ahead just yet, but I can tell you this:
 Your passion for art and that *special knack* for working with kids = the perfect foundation for the next chapter of your work & life.
 It's one where your earning potential is no longer limited to the salary set by your employer, school or state.
 And where YOU get to make the rules about how you work, when, where... and with whom.

This possibility IS available to you.
 (By the end of our time together, you'll believe it too.)
 Click the image or "learn more" button below to join me.
 I hope to see you there!
