

The success of your future course depends on one main thing... results! Looking at your own experience, how have you gotten the best results?

I follow a proven process and work 1-1 with people to ensure their success will be inevitable.

I cracked the code on a specific tool, software, or system and it's allowed me to streamline my growth and get better results in my life or business.

By paving my own path, relying on my trusty friend's trial and error, and eventually cobbling together my own approach based on personal experience.

I'm not sure I've ever gotten results that are good enough to merit teaching others — plus, who would I teach?! #startingfromscratch
